THE CONVENTION

On Thursday next the Whigs of Penobscot and Piscataquis are called upon to assemble, by delegates, in convention for the purpose of selecting candidates to be supported for the Senate. The meeting is one that should generally interest our friends, as it is of great importance that the next Legislature be composed of good men & true, as affairs of vital interest to the honor and prosperity of the State will come before it. The long, and we fear, in some cases, monstrous accounts of the expenses of the Aroostook expedition are to be settled. The Finances of the State are allowed to be in a sad, if not disastrous state, and need the best powers of the most skillful among us to place them in a safe and safe condition. The Commissioners Report on the revised laws, will, it is probable, come up for deliberation. This is a matter of vital importance, affecting not only the permanency and safe working of our political institutions, but personal liberty. Several great political principles will, most probably, be tested. The question whether the people shall elect their officers or have them appointed, although rejected by a locofoco majority last year, should be again presented for consideration. The question of our North Eastern Territory and the policy that shall be adopted in regard to it, will be under consideration. These and several other vital subjects so far as one legislature can do it, are to be settled. We repeat then that it is essential that good and wise men be selected as candidates and the people elect only such on the ninth of September.

It is not enough that men think right and feel right if they then, forbear to act, or act wrong. We would therefore urge upon every man who feels an interest in the honor and respectability of the State of every Whig to be up and doing in the good work of redeeming his State from misrule and the blighting, withering influence of locofocoism.

The Whigs of Maine seem to be resting upon their oars, while they are allowing the office holders, and leaders, of a corrupt and corrupting party, to drag down the character of the State that they may retain their places, and live upon the spoils. We urge upon our friends to consider attentively, and to act promptly.

☞ The Piscataquis Republican cries out lustily for proof that the trespass timber upon the Aroostook is not in the boom erected upon that river. If the editor will but turn to his own columns of only the week before his call, he will find a certain letter purporting to have been written on the Aroostook, but more probably hatched up by a number of heads in this city, in which it is declared that "the timber lies above the boom on the brow in the woods and on the shore of the Aroostook and its tributaries." In plain English, we suppose this means, that the timber lies scattered about just where it happened to be when the trespassers were disturbed after they had frightened Strickland. The locofoco editors have the ability, if they possessed the courage and the honesty, to give the public an exact account of the state of affairs upon the Aroostook, as their party is almost entirely represented there, but instead of doing this they prefer to lead off on a false scent for the purpose of deception.

☞ The Waldo Gazette states that the Land Agent is damned by the men in his employ, and that not a little trouble and vexation it is feared by the locos will grow out of his inability to pay the men the sums due them and which they need. We have heard some little groaning on this subject and expect to hear more. We hope the locofoco editors will not forget to inform us in reference to that thirty thousand dollars which it is said the Land Agent has received for timber, as that sum would answer to pay off some of the swift arrows against him.

☞ A friend has sent us the Catalogue of Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts. Seniors thirty five, Juniors eighty eight, whole number one hundred and twenty three. Only two of this number belonging to this State.

☞ It has been hinted to us that a splendid picnic is to be made up in the course of the week at silver lake, Eddington. The spot we know to be a charming one, presenting a great variety of scenery, and the blue berries are as thick as mustard.

☞ The dogs in our city have employed able advocates, and the forming a society for mutual protection, their safety is now secured.

Locofoco Convention. The Locofocos held a convention at Hallowell on Saturday the 17th instant, nominated Reuel Bradbury and S. H. Blake as candidates for Senate.

To Make Orgeat. Peel a quart of ripe lemon [illegible] put them down in water for a [illegible] will cover [illegible] Shape [illegible] very fine [illegible] in with double [illegible] better—and when nearly done, beat up the eggs and stir them in for a few minutes, and [illegible] up.

KENTUCKY. In the second district Philip Thomas, Whig, is elected by a large majority. In the third Joseph Underwood, Whig, is elected by a half majority. In the fourth Sherrod Williams, Whig, had no opposition, and is, of course, re elected. In the fifth [illegible] Whig, is elected by a large majority. In the sixth Wm. Green, Whig, is elected over J. Willis, Loco, by 3 to 400 majority. In the seventh John Pope, the old member, Whig, is re elected. In the eighth William J. Graves the old member Whig, is re elected by about 300 majority over Elijah Nuttall, Loco. In the ninth John White, the old member, Whig, is re elected by a large majority. In the tenth Richard Hawes is re elected over Robert N. Wickliffe, both Whigs. In the eleventh Mr. Andrews, Whig, is opposed by Mr. French Loco. The result is doubtful though Andrews has the best chance. In the twelfth Garret Davis Whig, is elected over Sluck, Loco, by a large majority. In the thirteenth Bullock, Loco, is elected over Southgate, by a majority of from 100 to 150. This is a Loco Foco gain. Here we have 10 Whigs elected and 1 Loco Foco. The Loco Focos will doubtless have one more in the first district (Murray's). Manifee's district is doubtful, though the Whigs are confident of having elected their man.

NORTH CAROLINA. The delegation in Congress from this State stand as follows. The Whigs are in italics.

Kenneth Rayner, vice S. T. Sawyer, Whig gain.
Jesse Bynum, re elected.
Edward Stanley, re elected.
Charles Shepperd, re-elected.
James McKay, re elected.
Micajah T. Hawkins, re elected.
Edward Dobbery re-elected.
Wm. Montgomery, re-elected.
Augustus H. Shepperd, re elected.
James Graham, re elected.
Lewis Williams, re-elected.
Henry W. Connor, re elected.
Pleasant Henderson, vice A. Rencher.

7 Whigs and 6 Loco Focos. A Whig gain of 1. North Carolina has done well.

FROM TENNESSEE and INDIANA we have nothing decisive though the probability is that in the latter State the administration have elected six out of seven members to Congress from the former, the returns are yet undecisive. The vote for Governor is very close, and it is feared Polk is elected. The Legislature is doubtful.

THE MILITIA

For many years past, there has been one unceasing prejudice in the community against the Militia System of this State, a prejudice which with many has ripened into objections not only against the present system, but to all systems and establishments for an armed defence of the country. As this feeling has shown itself more or less in the community among those not required to bear arms, there has been a corresponding murmuring and spirit of dissatisfaction among the militia, with the hardships and expenses attending the service required of them by law, performed as it has been, apparently without the thanks of those, for the protection of whose property such service is required to prepare them.

If a military establishment of any kind is required, it is necessary for the protection of the common property of all the citizens of the State and therefore should receive the support and encouragement of all, instead of being made the butt and ridicule of those who derive the greatest benefit from it in time of need. These frequent attempts to ridicule the militia, and the coldness and apathy manifested towards them, has come nigh destroying the whole system, and but for the events of the last year, what little of military spirit was left in the State would have soon vanished like clouds before the wind.

The critical situation in which we were placed last winter, and the still unsettled state of affairs in relation to our northeastern boundary, together with the zeal and alacrity with which our citizen soldiery obeyed the recent call of the State, have done much to remove existing prejudices and to prepare the way for a revival of that military spirit which once warmed the bosom of every soldier, and commanded the respect and admiration of every citizen. At such a time as this, and under such circumstances, it is to be hoped that the friends of the militia may again turn their attention to the subject, and in the next Legislature again try to restore it to its former high standing and respectability. To do this it is only necessary for the friends of the militia to unite, and teach their representatives that they have something to do at Augusta besides the mere study of party tactics for retaining one set of officers or for making another; that there are interests paramount to those of party, which demand their attention, and which hereafter will command the services of men who will attend to them. But all the evil in relation to the militia is not chargeable to the Legislature. One evil practice has grown up among themselves, that of suffering politics to enter into their choice of officers. Politics should never be allowed to mingle with military affairs, any more than in church matters. It is not so in the army of the United States, and should not be countenanced in the militia. Every officer should be elected or promoted for his merits or his qualifications and fitness for the place. Otherwise there is no inducement for a soldier or officer differing from the majority of his fellows in politics, to qualify himself for promotion, and his military pride, if he has any, is suffered to languish and die.

The Legislature should lighten and equalize the burdens and expenses attending the performance of military duty as much as possible. There is no good reason why every soldier should not be armed and equipped at the public expense if not paid for his services. The greatest evil however, which the militia have suffered latterly, is the want of an efficient officer at the head quarters. It is seldom that we have had a military man for Governor, the officer who is made by law Commander in chief. Hence the necessity of having a man at the head of the staff of some military science and energy, a character the reverse of the present time, is a serious evil in the fact. And so long as such a man is permitted to stand at the head of the militia, just so long will the whole body drag along a snail's pace in the way of improvement. Never was a greater degradation thrown upon the militia than the attempt at head quarters last winter, to degrade them by first calling them out to defend the integrity of the State, then under civil officers, then to make them stand with his posse armed without the authority of the law, to run about in the woods to catch a [illegible] the most uncivil of all civil officers, a substitute was making stump speeches to excite a mutiny in camp. To illustrate the idea more fully, the Land Agent raised a posse of two hundred men armed them without authority of law, put himself at their head, took lodgings in the camp of the enemy he was going to conquer, and passage thence to Fredericton—whereupon, his officers ran away at the rate of seventy miles per day and compelled their men to follow. Then the militia were called upon to retrieve the character of the State, and no sooner were they marched to the scene of operations, than they were called upon to place themselves under the command of such a man as Alvin Nye, 'Assistant Provisional Land Agent,' one of the lowest grade of all the men who might be hit upon as suitable for the service.

This is a specimen of the respect shown to the militia in high places, and I have made these few hints for the purpose of calling the attention of its friends to the subject, in the hope that something may be done to elevate the character and awaken a military spirit of the whole body before it is too late.

WOMEN MILKING

Thirty years ago it would have been almost as difficult to find a man milking, as to find a woman mowing, except in cases of very large dairies. In this respect matters have greatly changed; and any hope, for aught we see, of getting back to the old practice would be vain. Half of the young girls now a days hardly know, or at least they would pretend that it would be immodest and not at all lady like to be presumed to know, whether the milk comes from the udder of the horse. The rosy milk maid, the title of a song which we remember to have often heard when a boy, is an animal not known in modern natural history, and as to the young lady with thick shoes, a checquered apron her sleeves turned up, and a handkerchief tied round her head, though the apron should be as clean and the handkerchief as white as snow, and never so handsome a pair of black eyes and ruddy cheeks peeping out from under it, it would be an idea too shocking for one of your modern exquisites even to dream of, and if presented to her abruptly, while looking in the glass in her muslin de laines, with her satin shoes, her gilt hair comb, her paste earrings and her insect waist as crooked as the limb of a scrub oak, she would probably not recover from the fright for a week.

We say we have no hope of recovering the good old habits of former days. Revolutions never go back. Yet in this respect we have lost a great deal. Men are seldom neat enough in their habits to be trusted with milking. They have not the patience to wash their hands or to wash the udder before milking. They are not gentle, and often abuse the animal with their kicks and thumps. They are in a hurry in the morning to get through a business which they dislike, and they come home tired at night, the cows are necessarily milked at an unreasonable hour, and the business is very often very badly performed. Women, on the other hand, are more patient, more gentle, more faithful, more neat, and we were about to say they ought to do the milking. The morning air would be bracing to their muscles, (if the modern girls have any muscles, for there begins to be a reasonable doubt in this matter) and the odor of the cow has been long known to be, and is often recommended by physicians as medicinal. But we will not say what we were disposed to say, because it would be useless. It is utterly vain to attempt a contest with fashion—for—according to Franklin's proverb, 'he that spits against the wind spits in his own face.' We must, however, be just, and in riding through Dedham last week at the close of the day, it was quite refreshing to see in at least four cow yards, woman in her appropriate sphere, and by her pleasant looks and gentle conduct as she sat at the side of the beautiful cow, evincing her gratitude to Providence for this richest of all the benefactors which heaven has given to man in the form of a quadruped.

THE CONSCIOUS CHILD

BY T. H. GALLAUDET

A gentleman whom we shall call Mr. Ellis had a large beautiful peach tree in his garden. It was loaded with fruit which was not quite ripe. His son William watched the peaches day after day, and longed for the time when he would be permitted to take his little ladder and gather some. But as yet he was expressly forbidden to do it, or to shake the tree, and thus get a peach or two a little riper than the rest.

A heavy wind had blown down some of the peaches, and they lay very invitingly under the tree one afternoon as William was walking alone in the garden and passed near them. The temptation to pick one of them was a strong one. 'My father will not see,' thought he to himself, 'not to pick one, when the wind has already shaken the tree. I have done neither. He [illegible] are already on the ground, and I will [illegible] my father if I take one.'

Then some other thoughts came into his mind. 'It is true the wind blew the peaches down. But if I take one and eat it, I shall do what I know my father wished me not to do—eat an unripe peach.' It was because they were not ripe that he wished him not to gather any, or shake the tree. And I suppose if he had been here he would tell me, for the same reason, not to pick one from the ground and eat it.

He stood looking at the peaches. He was exceedingly fond of such fruit. He walked nearer to the tree. His better thoughts again came into his mind. He stood looking at the fruit, but as yet had not determined to take any.

What would you have done? If you had been there, just as William was? It would have been so easy, you know, to make up a story and say, 'Father, you never told me not to take any from the ground. I supposed they were as good as ripe, or the wind would not have blown them down, and then [illegible] would you have done?

I tell you what William did. He did not meddle with the peaches. He hesitated no longer, but went and told his father just how it was, and how he had struggled with himself to overcome the temptation. He was a conscientious boy. He did what he thought was right, although he doubted whether his father would have made what many children would think quite a good excuse for doing differently. He felt a great deal happier afterwards than he could have done had he eaten some peaches. He always conscientious. If you find your inclined to do any thing about which you doubt whether it is right, [illegible] both you will afterwards have to make what you call a pretty good excuse to get out of it. Remember too that God always knows just how you think and feel and act at such a time, and that, if you do wrong you will be pained one day to give an account of it to him, even if you will escape being detected or found fault with by your parent or teacher. Be honest at all times, and especially when [illegible] to help you [illegible] strictly conscientious.

THE FIVE LOAVES. An honest and industrious peasant in Bedfordshire, England, being observed to purchase weekly five quartern loaves, was asked the other day what occasion he could possibly have for so much bread. 'One,' replied the honest fellow, 'I take for myself; one I throw away, one I return, and the other two I lend.' 'How do you make that out?' was the reply. 'Why, I return the peasant, the one which I take myself, is for my own use, the second, which I throw away, is for my brother in law, the last I return is for my father, and the other two, which I lend, are those which I keep my two children in hopes that they will one day return them to me, should I stand in need of their assistance.'

CANDID. 'You've visited my daughter a long time,' said an anxious mother, to a young gentleman of our acquaintance, the other day. 'What are your intentions, Sir?'

'Honorable, entirely so, sir,' said the gentleman, [illegible] barking out as coachmen say to [illegible]. 'Yes, madam, I have been [illegible] and pray Sir, what may be your reason for deceiving the poor girl in that way?'

'I have several and our friend.'

'Well name one, if you can, you imp of Satan you little-waisted, knock kneed, pale faced no whiskered dolt, you thing, you scrap you.'

'Your daughter,' said he interrupting her, 'don't wear her bustle right. I have seen it one sided. Her dress maker tells me she padded in a dozen places, and wears two pair of stays. Her false teeth don't stay in well, and she puts castor oil on her wig. Madam, I can't stand such carelessness. You'll let me off now, I reckon.'

The old woman did let him off, for in two minutes she and her daughter were seen strike the down street, probably to tear out the eyes of the dress maker.

When King William was travelling through Hanover, he was charged very exorbitantly for every thing. Among other items, eggs were put down in his bill at five shillings sterling each.—'Why, bless me,' said the King, 'are eggs so scarce here?' 'No, sire,' was the reply, 'but Kings are.'

Lord Mansfield being willing to save a man who stole a watch desired the jury to value it at tenpence, upon which the prisoner cried out, 'Tenpence my Lord! why, the very fashion of it cost me five pounds.' 'Oh,' said his Lordship, 'we must not hang a man for fashion's sake.'

An orange tree frequently yields from fifteen hundred to two thousand four hundred years produces not less than thirty three millions of grains, and a purpuria gigalis one million seven thousand seeds. Some plants are so prolific that one flower producing only FIVE seeds would, if left to itself, in a short space of time, spread from one end of the world to another.

ENTAILED ESTATES.—Every man who desires to entail a valuable estate and enduring inheritance on his children which cannot be docked—or of which rogues cannot defraud them, and on which the sheriff cannot levy execution, and which they cannot alienate by a general assignment, may accomplish his wishes by bringing them up in the habits of persevering industry in any useful calling, by instilling into them habits of sound economy and above all by imbuing their minds with correct and practical views of moral and religious obligations.

IT IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE INDIAN PURGATIVE PILLS

ARE the best purgative medicine extant. This universal unable efficacy in the cure of ALL DISEASES is now fully conceded. They suit all complaints and all ages and are as natural to the human constitution as food consequently they can never injure even the most delicate. Like our food, they are digestive, therefore they enter into the circulation and impart an energy to the blood which enables it to flow with freedom quite to the extremities, and consequently to keep the pores of the skin open. They are true & perfect purifiers of the blood, because they drive in all corrupt humors from that life giving fluid. They impart strength and vigor to the whole system, and their effects are beneficial because they only remove those humors which are opposed to health. They aid and improve digestion, and sound sleep follows their use because they cleanse the stomach & bowels of those slimy humors which not only irritate and excite the nervous system, but paralyze and weaken the digestive organs. In short they possess all the good properties that can be claimed for any medicine, and yet as they are harmless, it is utterly impossible to use it without benefit.

WESTON'S celebrated PATE DE CHOCOLAT, or Pate de Coco
This excellent preparation of the Cocoa Nut is particularly recommended, not only on account of the great facility with which it is made ready, and for its peculiar richness of flavor, but more especially on account of the light and salutary nutriment it affords the Oil of the Nut (which in the ordinary made Cocoa or Chocolate separates, thereby offends the stomach, and counteracts its otherwise beneficial effects) is in this preparation completely neutralized and rendered harmless, at the same time possessing its superior qualities

HISTORICAL COLLECTION

BEING a general collection of interesting Facts Traditions, Biographical Sketches, Anecdotes &c relating to the History and Antiquities of every Town in Massachusetts, with Geographical Descriptions, illustrated by a Map and 200 Engravings The above work has been compiled by John W Barber, of New Haven, the author of a similar work in relation to the State of Connecticut and has recently been published by subscription by Dutt, Howland & Co of Worcester, Mass. It is filled with instructive and entertaining matter chiefly Historical, giving a particular account of each town in the State, its Location, Population, Business Early Settlement, brief Ecclesiastical History, with Anecdotes of whatever is peculiarly interesting or valuable in each town As a work of reference it is very valuable, and to the lover of History it will furnish a mine of interesting information Although the work has special relation to the State of Massachusetts, the connection of that State with Maine is such as to render it also interesting to a large portion of the inhabitants of the latter, especially to all those who came from Massachusetts, and who still have beloved friends in that Commonwealth To examine the work is a most like visiting the place described
The subscriber has been appointed by the publisher, Agent for the disposal of the above work in Penobscot and the neighboring Counties and will give an opportunity to citizens to avail themselves of a copy by calling at the Store of J M Prince & Co No 30 West Market Place Bangor

"PUBLIC OPINION IS SELDOM WRONG." Junius.

PUBLIC OPINION! Public opinion is perhaps the only unerring guide for those whose decision the Aid is appeal, and wherever such a manifestation of its approval, as there is with Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills? Step by step has this medicine worn its way into favor, in spite of envy, detraction and prejudice. Triumphant has been its progress to its present sphere of extensive usefulness. It has surmounted obstacles before which quackery sinks paralyzed, and has gained for itself a reputation which neither Physicians, nor Empirics, nor bold, counterfeiting apothecaries can ever injure. These charlatans, nevertheless, do assail it with the malignant shafts of their despicable envy, and which rebounds upon themselves with a power each day on the increase, until they themselves will be covered with the slime of their own manufacturing [illegible] Vegetable Pills then they cannot hide it from the sun;

"Or with polluted fingers tarnish it."

If to discover the cause and nature of disease if to make a medicine universal in its powers, and universal in its curative effects upon every kind of malady proved by the cures performed upon thousands of persons, restored to the blessings of health and to do these things be praiseworthy, then is Dr. Benjamin Brandreth entitled to the praise of this and each succeeding generation. By the means he points out, chronic infirmities and premature death are prevented. What are the means? Simply Vegetable Purgation, and it is now an established fact that there is no other way by which a REAL CURE can be effected.

John Dorr's County Agency being discontinued by mutual consent, Sub-Agents in Waldo, Penobscot, Hancock and Washington Counties, will hereafter receive their supplies from Mr. JOHN O. LANGLEY, Dr. Brandreth's duly authorized Travelling Agent, or from the New England Office,

How to be secure from Counterfeit Pills purporting to be Brandreth's Pills.

STOREKEEPERS' SECURITY. All persons who are authorized to travel for Doctor Benjamin Brandreth have invariably the power of attorney from him proved before the Clerk of the County of New-York. Without this is exhibited, touch, taste, nor handle.

STILL FURTHER,- Dr. Brandreth's Travellers never require the money in advance Dr. B's terms being Medicine to be paid for when sold.

SECURITY TO THE PUBLIC. Observe that the certificate is dated this year, Eighteen hundred and thirty eight, in figures, and see that such figures are engraved, not written.

Inquire whether the power of attorney was seen when the Pills were left, &c.

All Pills having Wm Brandreth on the label - George Hodgkinson on the edge, are counterfeits, made to Deceive the Public and evade the law at the same time.

These, and indeed ALL counterfeit Pills, if used according to the direction which accompany my Pills, are calculated to destroy life. They are made by men having no standing or respectability, without habitation or name, perfectly careless of consequences, provided money is obtained Extract from Dr. B's. address to citizens of U. S.

And be careful to remember that I have never authorized any Doctor, Druggist, Apothecary or Pedlar in the U. S. to sell my pills. These contemptible persons universally sell counterfeits, and that all Tradesmen who are made agents, have each of them a copper plate certificate of agency, signed in writing with a pen by me; and which certificate requires renewal every twelve months, it being no guarantee for more than one year from date observe the date is not written, it is engraved

GALVANIC AMERICAN PATENT PILLS.

THE PUBLIC WILL BE CAUTIONED that while we have given no cause to the public, have never even hinted at the existence of harmless nostrums, there are others which if not to great extent, are indeed, and suicidal prejudice to involve ruin and, is a common condition. And when a medicine comes endorsed with all the great names that have adorned the annals of the medical profession, and countenanced by the use and signature of long and uniform success, its proprietor makes no unreasonable demand upon the public confidence, when he claims for it a superior consideration.

The Camomile Preparation by Dr. Wm. Evans is undeniably entitled to this enviable distinction, for which professional authority in existence condemns it, every medical practitioner that is acquainted with it, freely acknowledges its pre-eminent virtues and that the latter should do so in opposition to their personal interests, must be attributed either to their candor and love of truth, or to their unwillingness to fly in the face of all observation, and the testimony of thousands.

Dr. W. Evans does not pretend that his Camomile Tonic Pills will cure all diseases. He frankly and conscientiously admits that they will not. He lays no claim to the discovery of the "Philosopher's Stone," and wishes nobody to believe that he sells the "Elixir of Life," but he does say, and he does believe, and he can prove, that in debility and impaired constitution; in Nervous diseases of all kinds; in weakness of the digestive organs, in incipient consumptions, whether of the lungs or the liver; in the dreadful debility occasioned by the use of purgatives; in palsy, rheumatism, (more especially in the sickness incident to mothers, and to females of relaxed nerves; in every case of delirium tremens, or that disease which is brought on by intemperance; in the wretched horrors of body and mind which accrue from occasional inebriety; loss of appetite, languor, melancholy, pains in the head, limbs, or side; in corrupt sallow, and uncomely complexion caused by the bad state of the fluids: in all these cases and in others mentioned in the bills of directions given with his medicines, HE DOES SAY, that the Camomile Tonic Pills, interchanged occasionally with his Aperient Family Pills, (the best known) which are sold with them, will effect immediate relief; and if used but for a fair period of trial a perfect cure. This much is placed beyond a doubt by daily testimonies which would be given on oath, and for this much Dr W Evans can conscientiously request confidence. He therefore need only add that his Camomile Tonic Pills, together with his excellent Family Aperient Pills, can be obtained wholesale or retail, at No. 7, Division street near Chatham square, N York, and his authorized agents in town and country

Other and more conclusive demonstrations of the efficacy of Dr Evans' Camomile Preparation and Aperient Medicines, are submitted by the following important and extraordinary cures effected by their highly medicinal qualities; all of which may be seen at Dr. Wm. Evans' Medical Office, No 7, Division street. One or two of these he herewith respectfully gives to a discriminating public.

Dr. Wm. Evans Sir, be pleased to receive the thanks of one who has been a great sufferer for several years, for the great benefits she has received from the virtues of your inestimable Camomile Pills. She has suffered with pain and distress in the head, a lightness across the head, a lightness across the stomach, shortness of breath, and palpitation of the heart; exercise would almost overcome her; but since using your Camomile Tonic Pills her complaints are removed.- she is able to exercise without fatigue, and she is happy to say, can enjoy life comfortably again.

Newark, July 18, 1836 Dear Sir, for four years I have been so unwell that I was unable to attend to my business, and for the last 4 or 5 months was confined in my room, my complaints were rheumatism, pains in my stomach indigestion and loss of appetite, with continued pain and dizziness in my head; I used different kinds of medicines without effect; until I commenced taking your invaluable Camomile and Aperient Pills; their beneficial effects upon me astonish all who knew my situation. In a few days I shall be at your office to express my gratitude to you in person In the mean time I subscribe myself your most ob't serv't.

B. S. JARVIS, 13 Centre st

Dr Wm. Evans.

Extract of a letter from Jonas Snyder, Postmaster, Knoxville, Pa. to Dr. Wm. Evans Among several cases "an elderly lady who had been 25 yrs. afflicted with nervous hypochondria, debility &c. that for the last 3 years she constantly received medical aid from a respectable physician, but the pressure and pain on her heart and breast, and especially in her left side, remained immovable, attended at long intervals with weakness in her head and on her mind keeping her discouraged to undertake any thing. In May she commenced using Dr W Evans' Camomile and Family Aperient Pills, according to the direction accompanying them. A reaction took place; the pains and pressure in her body was removed, her mind became clear and strong; her spirits perfectly good, and up to this time is in all respects restored to health, which for the last 10 years she has not enjoyed."

Sept 2, 1836 JONAS SNYDER.

ON LOW SPIRITS. Low spirits is a certain state of the mind, accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds, and the worst consequences imagined. Ancient writers supposed this disease to be confined to those particular regions of the abdomen technically called hypochondria, which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity whence comes the name hypochondriasis.

SYMPTOMS. The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach or bowels, acrid eructations, costiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness, dimness of sight, palpitations, and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance, or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage. Also languidness; the mind becomes irritable, fearful, desponding melancholy and dejected, accompanied with a total derangement of the nervous system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgment exhibit an infinite diversity The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest.

CAUSES A sedentary life of any kind, especially severe study, protracted to a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise, a dissolute habit, great excess in eating and drinking, the immoderate use of mercury, violent purgatives, the suppression of some habitual discharge, or the long continued application of relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within abdomen, is frequent cause.

TREATMENT The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion to strengthen the body and to elevate the spirits, which may be promoted by exercise, early hours, regular meals and pleasant conversation. The bowels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr. W Evans' Aperient Pills being mild and certain in their operation. The bowels being once cleansed, his invaluable Camomile Pills, (which are tonic, anodyne, anti spasmodic) are an infallible remedy, and without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public.

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury but it should not be resorted to; as in many cases it will greatly aggravate symptoms.

STATE OF MAINE.

RESOLVE proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State.

RESOLVED, Two thirds of both Houses of the Legislature concurring, that the Constitution of this State be amended by striking out the fourth section of the sixth article thereof, and substituting in the room thereof, the words following, viz:

"Section 4. All Judicial officers, now in office, or who may be hereafter appointed, shall from and after the first day of March, in the year eighteen hundred and forty, hold their offices for the term of seven years from the time of their respective appointments (unless sooner removed by impeachment or by address of both branches of the Legislature to the Executive) and no longer, unless re-appointed thereto."

RESOLVED, That the inhabitants of said towns, plantations and cities, shall vote by ballot upon said question; those in favor of said amendment expressing it by the word Yes, upon their ballots and those opposed to the amendment expressing it by the word No, upon their ballots.

RESOLVED, That the Selectmen, Assessors and Aldermen shall preside at said meetings, receive, count and declare the votes in open meeting, and the Clerks of said towns, plantations and cities, shall make a record of said proceedings, and of the number of votes, in the presence of the Selectmen, Assessors and Aldermen aforesaid, and transmit a true and attested copy of said record, sealed up, to the Secretary of State and cause the same to be delivered to said Secretary on or before the first Wednesday of January next.

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of State shall cause this resolve to be published in all the newspapers printed in the State, for three months at least before the second Monday of September next, and also cause copies thereof, with a suitable table form of a Return to be sent forthwith to the Selectmen of all the towns, and to the Assessors of all the plantations, and to the Aldermen of all the cities in the State. And said Secretary shall, as early as may be in the next session of the Legislature, lay all such returns before said Legislature, with an abstract thereof, showing the number and state of the votes.

SALT RHEUM.

HUNDREDS of persons, affected by this grievous malady, have made use of this medicine; and it has rarely failed to give satisfaction. In some cases its good effects have been truly wonderful.

The Rev. Josiah T. Howes, of Edgecomb, Me. under date of April 15, 1838, certifies, "that his wife, after having been afflicted with Salt Rheum, at times, especially in the winter season, for [illegible] years, applied about one year ago to Mr. Trufant for the OINTMENT AND MEDICINE, which he had advertised, as a cure for this dreadful disease. She obtained and used it for several weeks agreeably to the prescription of Mr. Trufant, when to her great joy she found herself to appearance perfectly cured. She has had some small symptoms of the disorder once since, but a brief application of the ointment, &c. has removed them." He further adds, "Though I will yield to no one in my hatred to quackery, I do most cordially recommend "Mr. Trufant's Patent Medicine for the Salt Rheum" to all who are afflicted with this dreadful malady."

Mr. Joel Howe, of West Prospect, in a letter dated April 19, [illegible], to the proprietor says "I have a daughter, who was very much afflicted with Salt Rheum for 5 years, I procured for her Mr. Wm. B. Trufant's ointment, by applying which she obtained relief and for six months past, [illegible] perfect health."

Mr. Samuel Adams, druggist, Hallowell, has been agent for the sale of "Trufant's Remedy for Salt Rheum", for a few months, and during that time, he observes, "there has been persons afflicted with the Salt Rheum in every degree, from a slight touch on the hand to the covering of the whole body, completely cured, by the above medicine."

From Mr. Huston Stinson of Georgetown, Me.

This is to certify that my wife has been sorely afflicted with the Salt Rheum, at times, from a child, and often for months in succession, so that she was unable to be about house.

During this time she made use of almost every thing which had been recommended to her as good for the complaint, but found little relief, and had formed the conclusion that there was no help for her. In 1837, she and her child (six months old) were so badly afflicted that they had but little rest, day or night, the child being almost covered with sores, and had been in this state for several months. A brother of mine, knowing the distress of my family, advised me by all means to make trial of Trufant's Compound for Salt Rheum. Agreeably to his advice, I purchased a quantity of it, and applied it as directed; and I can safely say that in two or three days, they found great relief, and in four week's time, the disorder entirely disappeared. Since that, they have been free from all humors whatever, and enjoy good health, and I have reason to believe are perfectly cured. I have lost two children with the same complaint. Had the same medicine been applied to them, I have good reason to believe that they would now have been living. I value the Compound highly as a remedy for that awful disease, and with pleasure would recommend it to all who may be afflicted with it.

HUSTON STINSON.

Georgetown, May 19, 1838.

No person need fear any evil from it however old or young, or feeble; for it is simple, and may be applied with safety. It is also a sure cure for other humors, such as Ringworms, Scald-Head, Leprosy, Shingles, Itch, for what is sometimes called the Jackson Itch, and for all cutaneous diseases. Price one dollar.

THE GREAT VEGETABLE REMEDY,

[illegible] Cough and Colds. This valuable Medicine has been [illegible] in the State of Maine, [illegible] offered to the public by the original inventor and proprietor, B. Sears, a few years since.

It is undoubtedly superior to any other article offered to the public; as it seldom fails in giving relief if used in time, and is taken without inconvenience.

Although this popular vegetable remedy has become well known, and its qualities highly approved by a [illegible] of the [illegible] in the Medical faculty, the following testimonials are added for the satisfaction of those who may be afflicted with the diseases for which it is designed. Several others may be seen in the bill of directions accompanying each bottle.

The undersigned takes pleasure in mentioning the prompt and essential relief which he experienced in a severe attack on the lungs in January last, from the use of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsamic Syrup of Liverwort; and cheerfully testifies that in his opinion, it is a most beneficial medicine in consumptive complaints, violent colds, or settled cough, and earnestly recommends this medicine to all who are suffering under afflictions of this kind

HARRISON'S PERISTALTIC LOZENGES;

AN APPROVED REMEDY FOR COSTIVENESS AND DYSPEPSIA

THIS medicine is not put forth as a universal nostrum, calculated to cure all the diseases incident to humanity, but rather as a means of preventing them. It may safely be stated that nine tenths of the most serious maladies arise from an unhealthy action of the stomach and bowels or liver, inducing as a natural consequence, indigestion and its results; such as head ache, acidity of the stomach, heart burn, flatulency, nausea, lowness of spirits jaundice and a whole catalogue of other complaints, which may be entirely removed by a timely and persevering use of this remedy

The most cogent objection to Aperients in general is, that containing some drastic purgative, they leave, after their operation has ceased, a torpidity of the stomach and bowels producing consequences which their administration was intended to correct Such effects will not follow the use of these Lozenges

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

The Peristaltic Lozenges are strongly recommended to the notice of every Lady having obtained the sanction and approbation of several eminent gentlemen of the Medical Profession, as a safe and valuable medicine in removing obstructions and relieving all other inconveniences to which the female frame is liable, especially those which arise at an early period of life, from want of exercise and general debility of the system. They create an appetite, correct indigestion, remove giddiness and nervous head ache, and are eminently useful in windy disorders, pains in the stomach, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. Being perfectly innocent, they can be taken at any time and under any circumstances The most delicate female when an aperient is required may have recourse to them, and they will act as a preventive against those nervous and hysterical affections which so frequently arise from confined constipation

TO SEAFARING PEOPLE AND TRAVELLERS GENERALLY.

To individuals travelling, more particularly seafaring persons, when from change of habit or climate, the liver and bowels become inactive and costiveness follows as an invariable result, these Lozenges will prove invaluable. One individual writes, "I consider myself cured of costiveness, to which I was always subject the moment I left the land solely by the use of your medicine." The proprietor is continually receiving orders from his seafaring friends for the Lozenges. When they are to be carried to sea, they ought always to be started from the box in which they are packed and put into tight bottles. In this way they may be kept good for any length of time.

The proprietor offers the [illegible] as a cure for nervous head ache and general neuralgic affections Very remarkable cures might be published if thought necessary.

Mr. Milhau, the agent in New York, writes, "I think it no longer necessary to advertise to the extent, as heretofore; the Lozenges are now well known. I am daily receiving the most satisfactory accounts of them, and I shall always recommend them to my customers"

The very questionable reputation which a medicine derives from the fashionable practice of publishing a long list of certificates, from persons who nobody knows, has induced the proprietor to forego the opportunity of offering to the public the many commendations which he is daily receiving of these Lozenges, trusting rather to their own merits, which will be apparent to all on trial and the respectability of his numerous agents

These Lozenges have been in use for two years, the general approbation they have met with from our first families, establishes their merits and makes further remarks unnecessary. They are packed in boxes which may be carried in the pocket and sold at fifty cents per box.

HARRISON'S PILE REMEDY,

Warranted as specific in all cases

Hemorrhoids, or the Piles are occasioned by habitual costiveness, plethora, hard riding on horseback and not unfrequently by the use of aloetic purgatives. The popular nostrum known as 'Vegetable Pills,' 'Universal Pills' and the like are highly injurious when taken for a long time being composed chiefly of aloes, which ought never to be taken by persons subject to Piles

This complaint is not necessarily and of itself immediately dangerous; in fact, in some instances it may be considered as a salutary evacuation especially in plethoric or full blooded persons - but when suffered to remain long, it is the cause of many serious and even hereditary diseases

The remedy now offered to the public, is prepared by the undersigned, from the receipt of a highly eminent practitioner in a neighboring city, and from the numerous cases absolutely cured by the use of it, he feels warranted in offering it as a specific

Price [illegible] is put up in flat bottles at fifty cents with full directions for use, accompanied by a plain [illegible] on the disease. Prepared and for sale by
